These Shapes Remind Me of You
Group Exhibition
May 14 - June 25

These Shapes Remind Me of You is a group exhibition emphasising the relationship between form and emotion. Structured according to a curatorial methodology rooted in associative behaviour, the exhibition interweaves geometric abstract formalism with a personal diaristic impulse. Here, symmetry, structure and repetition cross-contaminate with the girly, the dirty, the punk, and the poetic. A string of sentimental and aesthetic associations lead the viewer through the exhibition, forming unexpected connections between kitsch domesticities, modernist design, and anthropological encounters, as if personally-arranged pre-aggregated amazon suggestions.
